NORTH SCOTT HIGH SCHOOL
ELDRIDGE, IOWA, U.S.A.

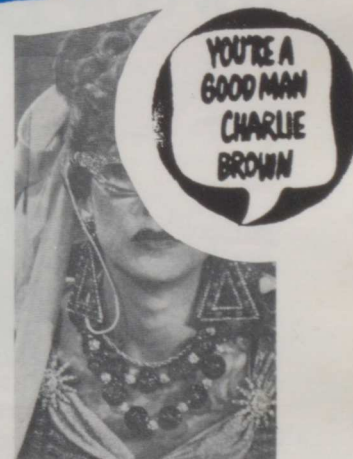

Where would the world be without the wonders that Americans have produced? We can be gentle and creative or hostile and destructive. We can be apathetic and sit a lot. We read more magazines than any other nation in the world. We drink more beer. We use more soap products. We watch more television than the rest of the world combined. We have Mickey Mouse. We have Playboy magazine. We have Charlie Brown; we have Funky Winkerbean. We have flag wavers and flag burners. We have the best and worst of everything. We had the depression (so we hear) and we have inflation (that means that a pair of Levis has doubled in price over the last few years.) We have baseball and hotdogs and apple pie. We are a boiling pot. We make it. We are Americans.

THE DEPENDABILITY PEOPLE

The Des Moines Register

That's Where The Tall Corn Grows

Did you know that the world's largest washing machine factory is in Newton, Iowa? Grant Wood, Herbert Hoover, Henry Wallace, Johnny Carson, Cloris Leachman, and Roy B. Keppy are famous people from the Hawkeye State.

Scott County has its share of the state's firsts, including WOC, the first television station, and Iowa's first museum, built in Davenport; the state's first locomotive appeared in Davenport back in 1867. Iowa: A Place To Grow. All sorts of things.

YOU are 1 out of 203, 235, 298 people in this United States who are bombarded daily with...it's the real thing...it doesn't feel like toilet paper...you've come a long way baby...relax, you have Mastercharge. Today's 30¢ Coke only cost a nickle in 1906; a pair of men's shoes now $35.00 went for $3.50; and teenagers who wanted to take a picture of their sweetheart put down only $5.00 for a Kodak.

We Americans spend a lot. We play a lot, too. The wide world of sports at North Scott has been expanded from that first masculine touchdown to feminine cries of "fore" on the golf course to "love" by both on the new tennis courts.

When North Scott started in 1958, four coaches were hired. Today there are twelve coaches filling 29 positions. Mr. Jim Nelson, who has taught here since that first year, estimates 115 were involved in athletics then, compared to 410 today, including an ever increasing number of girls.

Over the years our school has participated in the Miss-cowa, Illowa, and joined the Big Bend Conference this year.

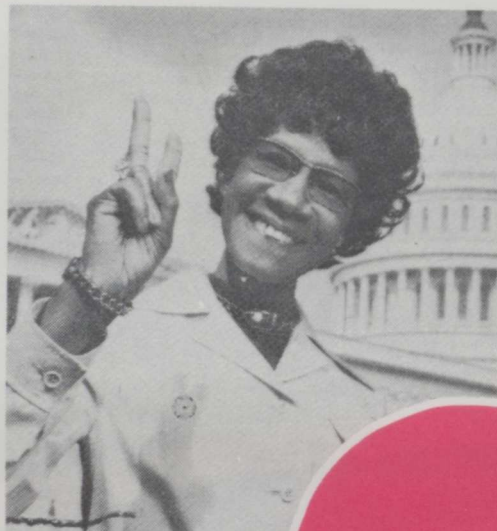

Mr. Larry Lake and Mr. Jim Nelson nominated Bill Frazier for North Scott's all time outstanding athlete. Bill excelled in football and track. In his sophomore year at the University of Iowa he captured the world's fifth fastest time in the quarter mile.

Sports and money are a big part of America.

One of North Scott's oldest traditions is Homecoming. The crowning of a queen and the football game have become the biggest events of the year to many students. It is the highlight of the fall semester providing many ways to bring the student body together with school spirit. Activities have varied from year to year; we have painted sheets and burned outhouses in bonfires over the years. We had a Fall Fantasy in 1961 and a Latin theme weekend in 1964. We have had snake dances and class skits. We have decorated halls, dressed weird, and won spirit awards. We have burned huge letters on the football field; our Lancer mascot now appears only at homecoming. As North Scott grows, more and more alumni return to see old friends. It is a time to have fun and be proud of our school. Most of us like it. With fading traditions elsewhere, homecoming seems to be alive and well at NSHS.

American superstars throughout the years have influenced entertainment all over the world. History books record Humphrey Bogart, Clark Gable, Charlie Chaplin, Alfred Hitchcock, W.C. Fields, Rudolph Valentino, and Marilyn Monroe as among the greatest. Today John Wayne, Robert Redford, Barbara Striesand, Burt Reynolds and Diana Ross draw people to the box office. We've grown up with the help of Howdy Doody, Sesame Street, Captain Kangaroo, Walt Disney, Wild Kingdom, My Friend Flicka, and the Ed Sullivan Show. And who could forget the adventures of Hoss and little Joe on Bonanza? This year Little House on the Prairie, the Mary Tyler Moore Show, Chico and the Man, and Marcus Welby M. D. filled the air waves. Movie tickets became more expensive, but we still went. Cable T.V. became a household word. We spent a lot of money this year entertaining ourselves; we're good for the economy! A lot of people talk about kids and how they spend their money; history proves that young Americans have more money to spend each year amusing themselves. John Denver and America sell records. Music was heard in America this year producing many a Rocky Mountain high.

Somewhere Over The Rainbow

HOME OF THE LANCE

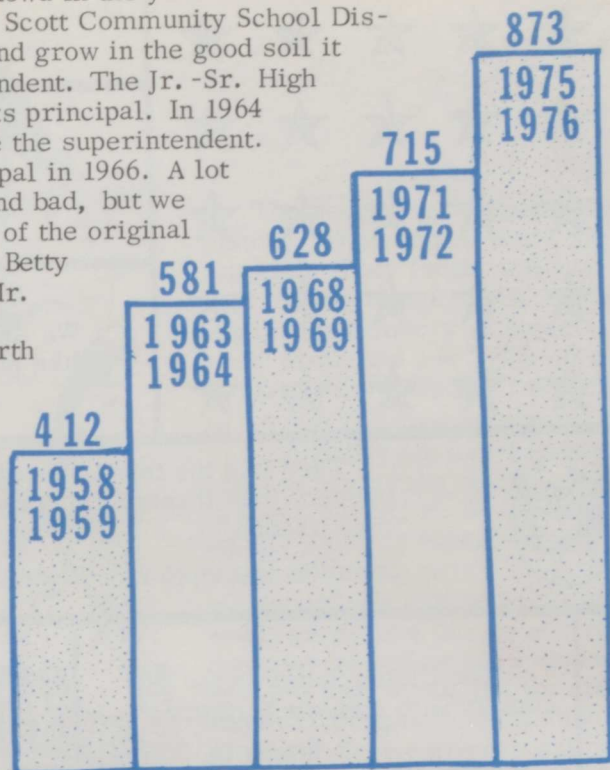

SCOTT

It all started in a corn field in upper Scott County, Iowa in the year of 1956. A school district was born. Logically it was called North Scott Community School District by its founders, and it started to grow and grow and grow in the good soil it was planted. Mr. Charles Hahn was the first superintendent. The Jr.-Sr. High School was opened in 1958 with Mr. Melvin Heiler as its principal. In 1964 Mr. Donald Anderson replaced Mr. Heiler who became the superintendent. Mr. Edward Fischer became North Scott's third principal in 1966. A lot of changes have been seen over the years, good ones and bad, but we struggle on. Seven teachers still remain on the faculty of the original teachers who opened the doors in 1958; they are: Mrs. Betty

Stamer, R.N., Mr. Don Scott, Mrs. Lucille Day, Mr. Ken Peeters, Mr. Milt Schatz, Mr. Keith Schmidt, and Mr. Jim Nelson. We have tried to capture North

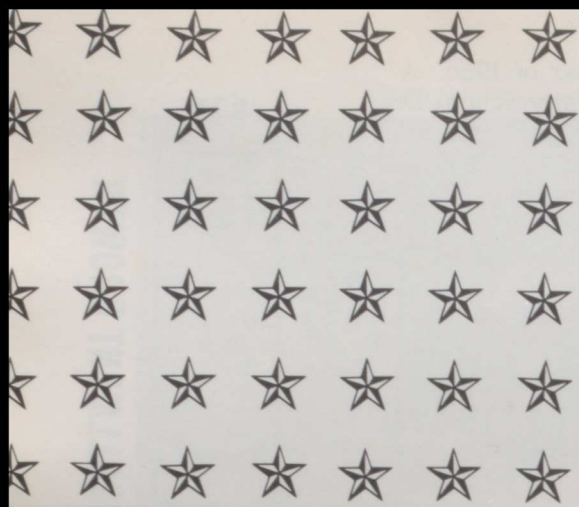

Scott High's history of seventeen years and its spirit that makes change what American education is all about. It is OK by us at NS because we have the way before us of changing America, which is what we are. If you look at the expansion: D-Hall, library, gym, commons, vo. ag. annex, music wing, tennis courts--that's North Scott. We are one of the fastest growing school districts in Iowa. We're A-OK.

from the inscription on the Statue of Liberty

The people on this page changed history. They helped write the Constitution. They fought and won wars; they did big things. At North Scott High School history is something we study about and ask "Why do we have to learn this?" We don't think it is important because we are not going to do anything big like Lincoln. Our country has grown so big it is hard to feel a part of it. So why look back on 200 years of victories and mistakes of the big guys?

America's unique position in the world gives us a unique environment that may be bad or good (depending on how you look at it). But we are the result of the past and we should appreciate why we are the way we are. It was accomplished by both the big guys and the little guys, too.

In our area we can see the change from agriculture to industry. Has this happened before in another place and time? That's what history answers. We can ask "What's happenin'?" and "What happened?" too. That is history. Happy Birthday, America!

Chuck Mohr struggles to concentrate on homework, interrupting thoughts of tonight's game.

"The spirit of our class is overpowering. It's terrific!"

Those are the words of Junior Class President Gwen Tombergs, Vice President Lisa Lau, Secretary Cindy Nagle, and Treasurer Linda Strobbe concerning overall "77" spirit.

Game booths at the Eldridge Summer Festival, selling class buttons, and hosting a sock hop after a basketball game were the juniors' major fund events in preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Joni Hoffmann looked back on Saturday at the game booths.

"It was so freezing and wet that day. Business wasn't bad, but the weather discouraged many customers."

"Comanche Is One Big Joke" was the theme that won juniors the Homecoming Spirit Award in the "Deck the Halls" decorating contest.

The class' production on skit night was "The Candy Shop."

Shellee Littell, Pat Jones, and Cindy Cronkleton will not be forgotten for their portrayal of little girls nor Gwen Tombergs who played the nasty candy shop owner. Credit also must be given to the candy suckers who set the background.

Shellee Littell remembered, "You could let yourself go and be really nutty!"

This is funky and far out, baby!

Keith Seligman and Dale Ewers are in the 'horney' section of band.

The sophomore class was one of action this year. With the responsibility of Bachelor Capture imminent, the class wasted no time in raising money. A new tradition of a monthly bake sale in addition to the coat check during winter sports season supplemented their cause. Julie Thornton, class president commented, "I'm really proud of the excellent participation we've had in our money raising events." Others providing leadership for the class were Vice President Margo Downs, Secretary Joan Levsen, and Treasurer Jane Hamilton. Mr. Perrine and Mrs. Menke served as class sponsors.

The spirit of the Class of 78 was evident throughout C hall during Homecoming week, where teacher's windows were decorated with slogans such as "Lake's Lingerie".

The class of 1979 started out their freshman year 249 strong. The first task was to elect class officers for the year. Duane Amhof was elected President, Peg Geary, Kelly Bittner and Mike Zimmer were Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer.

Next on the agenda was homecoming. The freshman had the responsibility of decorating for the dance. About that experience, which turned out ok in the end, Duane Amhof said "The people who were there did a great job, but overall the class wasn't willing to work."

The SPACE program beckoned at the start of second quarter as applications and forms became a major topic of conversation. They remained a part of freshman year along with grammar worksheets and science labs.

Split-Shift spelled 'headaches' for the board and administration this year. The completion of the Jr. High school and its story (see pages 78, 79) will long be remembered as the project that almost never got finished. With half hour classes and 4 bus schedules a day for almost all of first semester, the board spent hours and hours making sure each student at North Scott got the best education under the circumstances. Mr. Harland Rohlk, the only remaining original board member, can look back on all NS problems over the years--and see that eventually all things get completed, sometimes they are six months late.

Now monopolizing rooms C-10, 11, 12 and 13, The Social Studies Department has added psychology to a basic curriculum including American History, Government, Sociology, Western Civ. and Minorities.

Mr. Andy Agosta taught the psychology class in relatively small groups which learned the unspoken language of people in this basically individualized course. Mr. Agosta said, "It is concerned with what makes people tick."

The split schedule and overcrowded conditions meant some instructors had 150 students each morning, making it difficult for the teachers to get to know the whole class. The sociology class suffered the cut of several activities and became a basically lecture class.

In from the trailers and out of A-hall into new quarters in C-hall was the big move of the Language Arts Department for 1975-76. Mr. Conrad's trailer remained to serve occassional needs, while Mr. Cockman's was pulled to an elementary school. C-3 was added to the facilities for speech classes.

Spanish was taught by Mrs. JoAnn Helland. Mrs. Judith Hughes Jacobs joined the faculty teaching speech and speech and drama activities.

The library area was increased greatly with the departure of the junior high section. Many of our duplicate copies and our jr. high level books went with them, explained Mr. Coffman, the librarian, but expanding facilities was made priority number one during this year.

Ecology, a daily environment class, initiated several years ago, welcomed a new instructor, Mr. Koch. He also teaches General Biology and enjoys the fine lab facilities at North Scott.

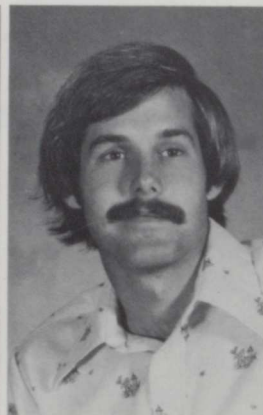

Because of split scheduling, the teachers have restructured, rescheduled, and cut some science units and large groups have become obsolete in several courses.

The fact that some clothing and cooking class-work had become homework was a sign of the split schedule pinch on the Home Economics Department. The aroma of roasts, cakes, and pies still filled the halls, despite the frequent visits of mus musculus (mice). Home Nursing and Family Living classes were filled to capacity again this year.

This year's business department operated efficiently as usual, maintaining the same classrooms and student population.

Driver's Education took its share of the bumps as the teachers and students tried to maneuver around split schedule conflicts.

Farmer's Pride? You better believe it! The Voc Ag department tried some new things this year to keep the spirit going.

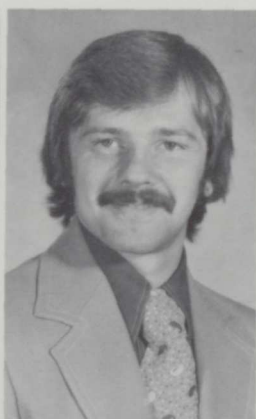

The 9th grade woods classes were moved from the shop to C-21. Tri-mester curriculum replaced the four quarter plan in Mr. Perrine's Industrial Arts classes. Actual industry skills were taught in the advanced metals course and the group took several industrial tours.

Mr. May revived the spirit of choir and became a familiar face in the music department. Many new voices joined the choir and Mr. May sums it up, "We are working hard and the sound reflects the enthusiasm."

Lack of time and inadequate facilities cramped the style of many artists this year. The art department, headed by Mrs. Day, had to cut projects and revise those remaining to accommodate 30 minute classes.

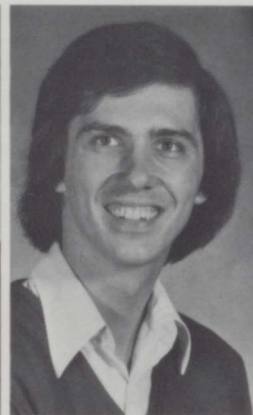

The North Scott Band saw a number of changes, including an assistant director, Mr. Kessinger. Music Appreciation, a music history class, meets daily 2nd period with Mr. McIntosh. Stage Band Rehearsed on school time this year and the department also added the Symphonic Band second semester.

The Physical Education Department was in the middle of reconstructing their entire program this year. The split shift made for short games in the fall and a longer time to implement some new programs.

One day each cycle students went to newly originated health classes, a requirement for graduation. The class stressed better understanding of basic physical education.

"Open Gym" happened third quarter to provide an additional facility for SPACE students by giving them access to the gymnasium.

Tennis courts were in the news as they were added to our campus complex. The courts, paid for by the school board and the community, were a welcome 1976 addition to our physical education facilities.

Hot lunches were discontinued during the split shift for the high school, but cooks still kept busy by preparing meals for the 4 elementary schools. When full days returned, the cooks again worked at full capacity. The hamburger line was given a more appealing outlook when fish, cheeseburgers, pizzaburgers and burritos were added on certain days. Myra Lantau served as food service director and Phyllis Shannon was kitchen manager. The custodian department, headed by Robert Taylor, saw many new faces.

PAM WILLIAMS

Seniors: Karen DeWulf, VP; Pam Williams, President; Deb Strobbe, Secretary; Sherri Schnoor, Treasurer.

Class officers are elected each spring for the coming year except for incoming freshmen. This gives those elected a chance to really get organized for the coming year. As leaders of their class, the officers have a responsibility that extends to one major endeavor. The Senior Class officers select announcements and help get prepared for graduation. Junior Class officers organize the Jr.-Sr. Prom in the spring. Sophomore Class officers plan and organize the girlask-boy turnabout dance, the Bachelor Capture, in early spring. The Freshman Class officers organize the decorations and food for the Homecoming dance in the fall. With these jobs in hand, the class officers have a chance to get their class all together.

Back in 1958, North Scott's initial year, the first class officers were elected in December. The results for the senior class were: Bill Bayles, President; Ray Strobbe, Vice-President; Sue Ewoldt, Secretary; Gerry Arp, Treasurer. In those days they had two minute nomination speeches prior to final elections. Today we circulate petitions and have an open ballot election in home-rooms. Having class officers is a tradition that still is evident here at North Scott and probably always will be.

This year's Student Congress, 32 members strong, has had its hands full. Plans for Homecoming got under way at the first meeting. Committees of 3 to 6 members ordered flowers, set up a schedule for homecoming week activities, handled the traditional aud, helped plan the dance and football game halftime. The group also has taken over the responsibility of regulating the SPACE program, since the SPACE council was discontinued. The officers leading the representatives were Pam Seligman, President; Keri Nagle, Vice President; Pat Green, Secretary; and Karen DeWulf, Treasurer. Faculty advisor seats were filled by Mr. Fox and Mr. McCoy. In addition to getting and decorating the Christmas "bush", the Student Congress initiated the collection of food, clothes, and toys for a needy family. The spring collection for Muscular Dystrophy took place again. To raise money, the group sold homecoming badges and worked at football and basketball concession stands.

Out for a spin are Juniors Joni Hoffman, Deb Carstens and John Wiggers. They'll meet you in St. Louis, Louie.

The Honor Society traveled to the Willow Grove School to show how education was not so few years ago. Iowa's one room schoolhouses produced many a scholar.

Janis Dengler, Sheri Schnoor, Sherri Curtis and Cynthis Swenson strike a scholarly pose.

Doris Robertson, Pam Seligman, Keith Jansen and Pat Green, NHS officers, ready the hickory stick.

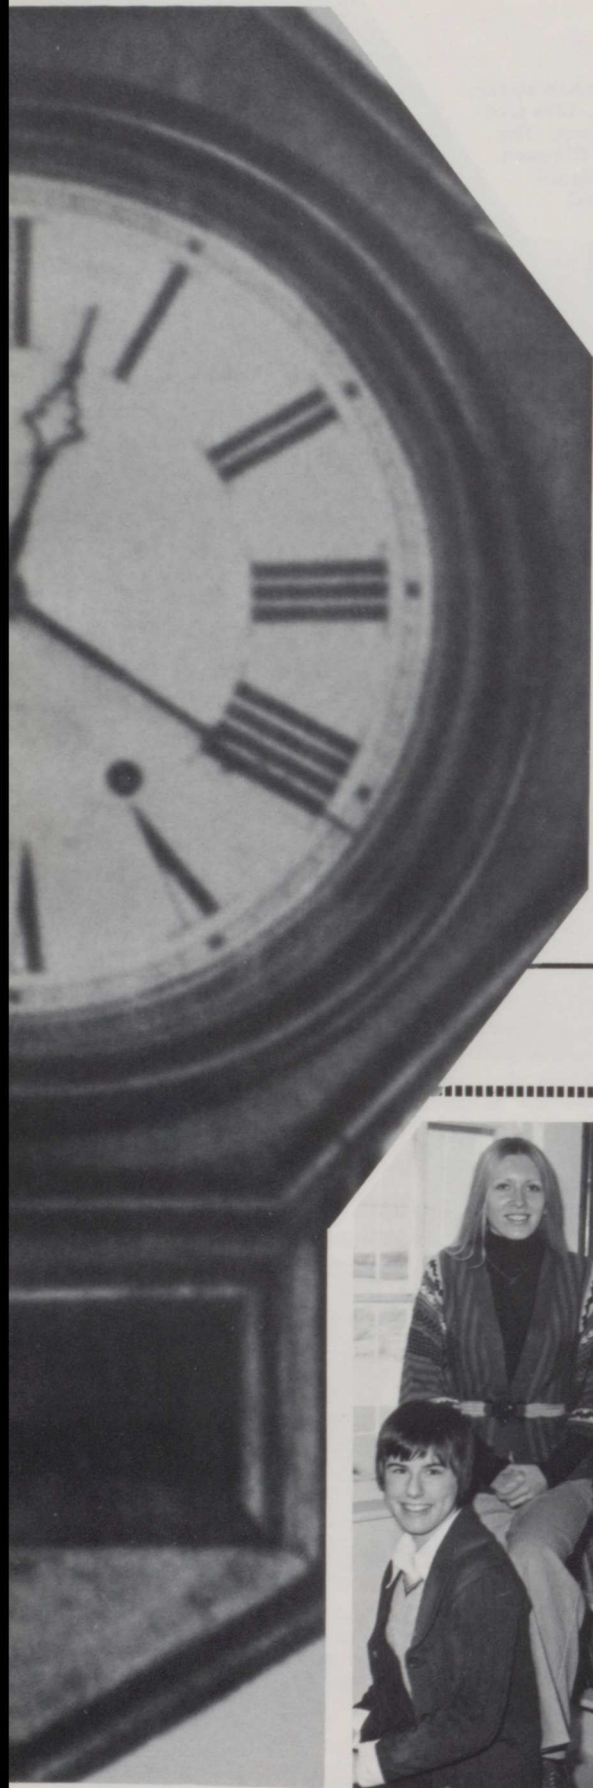

The 1975-76 National Honor Society was 37 members strong, boasting 9 new members. A Sock Hop after the Sept. 12th football game was the group's major money-making project. The party featured a jail, stereo music, Mr. May, Mike Claussen and Keith Hentrich as DJ's, and a dancing contest. Members stayed till long after midnight pushing brooms and vacuum cleaners trying to get the commons back to normal after the large crowd of students left.

February brought the annual banquet for members, parents, and provisional members. Brian Cox, MC, kept the program running smoothly. Officers' speeches were given; Keith Jansen, President, talked about "leadership", Pat Green, Vice-president, followed with "character", "scholarship" was Pam Seligman's topic, secretary, and Doris Robertson, who served as treasurer, gave a talk on service.

Carol Shippey, Eric Schmidt, Brian Cox, Barb Fuglsang, Brenda Madden and Gary Fischer recall the good old "School Days".

Rose Missfeldt, Pam Williams, Debbie Strobbe and Kim Summers reflect on their grade school experiences. When you are a senior, those years seem like only yesterday.

Matt Weber, our foreign exchange student from Germany, had no trouble getting into the swing of things at North Scott. Matt has a flair for English even though he said, "English was my worst subject in Germany." In Germany, Matt lives in Maintal near Frankfurt in mid-western Germany where his father is on the board of directors for the Zurich Insurance Group. His 16-year-old brother Christian is also a foreign exchange student, and is living with a family in Palmyra, Illinois. A sister Susanne, 11, and Matt's mother, a homemaker, are also at home in Germany. Matt's host family is the Oriene Mitchells' of Eldridge. Matt lived in Eldridge from September through July under the Youth for Understanding (YFU) program.

Communications between other students was a little more difficult for Luis Perdomo, our 18-year-old student from Bogota, Columbia. Luis speaks only broken English and was very dependent upon Mrs. Joanne Helland, NS Spanish teacher.

Luis' family owns a farm 400 miles south of Bogota and his father, a doctor, heads the ministry of health in Bogota. Luis, who arrived at North Scott in January and is living with the Joseph Boire family will return home to his native Columbia in July.

Luis Perdomo, our foreign exchange student from Columbia, soon adjusted to a more liberal school atmosphere.

No hablo Inglés.

LUIS PERDOMO

Matt Weber, our foreign exchange student from Germany, was able to combine table tennis and playing guitar to enhance his stay at NS.

Mrs. Joanne Helland proved a valuable friend to Luis as she taught him more English so he could communicate with his new friends at NS.

John Steffen, Joe Green and Mike Claussen listen as Lisa Lau forbodes evil from a visit by Count Dracula.

Midnight practices proved beneficial as "Count Dracula" was presented on November 7 and 8, 1975 under the direction of Mrs. Judith Hughes Jacobs. The set, a gothic castle room, was constructed by Mr. Harvey Perrine who was also responsible for the lighting and special effects. The smoke, flying bats, a rocking chair and black-lighted vampires were part of the unusual aspects of the play. In addition to those pictured, the cast included Kathy Freund, Lisa Hamann, Jan Levsen, Lyndon Hamann, Jon McIntosh, Sue Hamann, Barb Mossage, Sue Boeding and Brenda Madden.

THE LANCE

NORTH SCOTT HIGH SCHOOL
SEPT. 17, 1975

ELDRIDGE, IA
VOL. 17 NO. 1

In October of 1958 Mike Auliff named the North Scott newspaper THE LANCE. He probably never dreamed that someday it would look as it has this year. A modular design brought a 'new look' this year. A special center spread brought school life to the front of our minds featuring the split shift, harvest, calculators, the maternal health center, shoplifting, mustaches and the industrial arts expansion. A special Christmas Lance featured faculty member Miss Savory, Mr. May, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Ryan and Mr. Cockman writing thoughts of the season.

Editors Kim Summers, first semester, and Dawn Sly, second semester, published 32 issues of volume 17. Gary Fischer headed the job of advertising manager. Shellee Littell was design editor. Writers included: Anne Kuehl, Rose Missfeldt, Carol Shippey, Lisa Lau, Brian Miller, Mike Francis, Jennifer Hill, Dan Newell, Monica Segers, Denise Rathjen, Joe Fury, Betsy Fury and Lisa Kraft.

Art work was done by Rhonda Klindt and Lynne Fischer. Neal Ewoldt added photographs. The new angles column featured opinions of students on topics not necessarily related to school. Joe Fury's "Briefly Speaking" returned second semester.

Trips to the paper's printer, Eastern Iowa Printing, and the Iowa High School Press Association convention in Ames proved very worthwhile events for the staff. Their advisor, Mr. Gene Conrad, attended the National Scholastic Press Association convention in Chicago. THE LANCE had a very busy year bringing NS news every week of 1975-76!

LANCE artists Rhonda Klindt and Lynne Fischer smile for the camera as LANCE photographer Neal Ewoldt ignores them.

The antique sleigh of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cronkleton provided an old time winter look to show the LANCE staff having a winter break.

This special edition of THE SHIELD was a very extraordinary challenge. We tried to answer the question of how much North Scott's students actually cared about their country's 200th birthday. While we have tried to bring an appreciation of our part of the country by using things and places out of the past to reflect the present, we have also tried to show what North Scott students think about today through the use of quotes. It took a lot of time and patience, and cooperation and hassle. But the split shift, the lists of "schedule problems" and the year ended. We have tried to list all of those who assisted us in our flight on page 145. Led by Debbie Strobbe we took off from the University of Wisconsin at White-water seminar with a stopover in Chicago at the National Scholastic Press Association convention through to Topeka, Kansas, where our book was printed by the American Yearbook Company. Through sometimes we were tempted to parachute, we made it.

The yearbook staff tried to take an upward turn for the better with its bicentennial edition, Volume Eighteen, 1976!

Senior Class Editor Pam Williams, Junior Class Editor Lori Rock, and Index Editor Sheryl Underwood prepare for a trip back in time as this antique biplane helps The Shield Staff express what it has tried to capture of 1976, before and after.

The Shield's three pilots: Lisa Lau, Assistant Editor, Mr. Len Cockman, Advisor, and Debbie Strobbe, Editor, take off to show you NSHS, 1976.

Sally Schroeder, advertising, Deb Braden, advertising, Pat Green, copywriter, Donna Keppy, advertising, Doris Robertson, advertising coordinator, and Joni Hoffman, advertising, helped get the Shield staff off to a running start as they went around the county giving NS supporters a chance to fuel us up.

We went to great heights to produce this book!

DEBBIE STROBBE

We had a lot of hindrance and help getting it all together; help is Mr. Jack Hull's middle name, and we also borrowed his biplane.

Sporting our flight through 1976 are Sports Editors Mike McGuire, Sue Boeding and Mike Claussen; they propelled us into the spirit of the games.

This was the year of the Split Shift. In years to come, North Scott students will be telling their children about the days they started off to school when it was dark, boarding the bus at 7:00 AM. It was all because the new jr. high school wasn't completed that the senior high began classes at 8:00 and ended at noon and the jr. high students came pouring into the building for the afternoon. Our classes were cut from fifty minutes to thirty. Teachers felt the pinch when they were not able to cover as much material and students complained about too much homework. Buses ran 4 routes a day, at times less than half full. Sr. high activity busses had us home by three. For many students the extra time meant a job. For teachers it meant meetings and extra planning time. The band, preparing for game shows, felt the crunch and adjusted practices. There were adjustments for everyone and many compromises were made to accommodate the split shift. It ended on January 6, 1976. An experience passed.

Afternoons meant stocking shelves at the Eldridge Jack and Jill for Steve Fahrenkrog.

Pam Williams, Pat Green, Joe Fury, Tammy Simkins, Kevin Miller, Keith Hentrich, Kathy Claeys, Steve McNicol, Margaret Costello and Brian James are singing out in red, white and blue for a medley of Lennon and McCartney hits.

A solo by Deb Keeney was a part of "Those Were the Days."

The marquee went up and the music began: Swing Show 1976 had begun. Mr. Ardy McIntosh directed the stage band and Mr. Ron May directed the swing choir as they traveled through the years of music proclaiming THOSE WERE THE DAYS. A capacity crowd filled the gym on March 12 and 13 to watch and listen as we brought back old and not so old memories with "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and "Lennon/McCarthy Medley." A set portraying the Gibson Girl, a flapper and today's generation provided a mood for dancing and song. The stage band, in blue tuxedos and black silk dresses, dressed like a big band of a bygone era as they played a big band sound.

"Those Were The Days" found "A Time to Grow" as it tried to "Touch A Hand, Make A Friend." It was "Joy to the World" as "Daisy Bell" was "The Entertainer." There was "A Tribute to the Duke" at the "Woodchopper's Ball" creating "Big Band Milestones." As we tried to "Rock Around the Clock" to "Light Vibrations" we were "Up, Up and Away" in "MacArthur Park." We sang "Let It Be" to "Mac the Knife" as we had "Feelings" of "Those Were the Days!"

Lyndon Hamann does a solo in the band's "Tribute to the Duke."

The band took on a new look second semester when the traditional Varsity band was transformed into a Symphonic and a Concert band. The Symphonic band is composed of forty-nine members of the Varsity band. Auditions consisting of sight reading, scales, prepared etudes and all around performance was required, and only the members with the highest scores were selected. "The symphonic band gives the more advanced students more difficult music to play", stated Mr. Ardy McIntosh. The concert band, directed by Mr. Bill Kessinger, was composed of the remaining 72 members of the Varsity band. These members also had to audition and are seated according to the highest score. Throughout the week, Concert and Symphonic band combined to form the Varsity band. In concerts, all three bands perform.

Brass choir and woodwind choir was something new this year. Both groups practiced before and after school or after band rehearsals and competed at the Solo and Ensemble Contest in April. Many more ensembles were put together this year than in previous years, including the percussion ensemble which performed at a number of events, including Music Booster meetings.

When school began in the fall so did the 120 piece marching band, under the direction of Les Kuhl and Jon McIntosh. Because of the split shift the marching band was unable to perform the first game. Lots of time and work was required by everyone in the band, especially by Mr. McIntosh and Mr. Kessinger. Not much was accomplished during a half hour period for the marching band. Wednesday afternoons were valued by the students because everyone benefited from the extra time that was needed to prepare each show. The halftime show themes included "Junior Joins the Band" in which Jay McIntosh played Junior. Another of the shows offered a bicentennial theme while country music was presented for the Homecoming show.

BAND OFFICERS: Brian Cox, Lyndon Hamann, and Janis Dengler.

Stage bands I and II moved their practices sessions from after school to 5th and 6th period, providing much appreciated hour practices in which to prepare for their appearances. Mr. Ardy McIntosh directed the first stage band while the second stage band was under the direction of Mr. William Kessinger. Swing Show and varsity basketball games gave the musicians a chance to show their talents. Choral and band officers were consulted when any problems that would affect their respective groups came up.

Clubs didn't get off to a very good start in 1975-6, and many never really met at all. Those who did survive the split shift and year of apathy accomplished a little. PEP CLUB under president Michelle Baughman got some signs painted and pep pals assigned this year. Lisa Lau was vice-president. They met irregularly, but yelled loud at games! CHESS CLUB met after school to have a little 'thinking' fun. Mr. Art Bennett advised this group of rooks and pawns. SCIENCE CLUB went to the Bettendorf Planetarium and built an oscilloscope (that's a machine that measures electric current.) Brian Cox was president; Kim Summers was vice-president; Kurt Fowler was secretary treasurer. LANCER PRODUCTIONS was a newly formed group to help the music and drama areas of NSHS. In its infant year they built scenery for the contest one-act and worked on the programs, lighting and scenery side of Swing Show. They met regularly for those interested students.

The Mickey Mouse Roll Call, a 50's Dance and Anything Goes were pep aud themes created by the cheerleaders during the 75-76 sports season. Over sixty cheerleading positions were filled by 45 girls this year. With the help of their new advisor, Miss Betty Bang, the girls worked out at supervised practices. Singing and pom-poms highlighted synchronized routines putting a lot of variety into North Scott's spirit.

The 1975 football season proved quite dismal for the North Scott Lancers. Bright hopes of a possible championship in the newly formed Big Bend conference fell short. The conference, consisting of Pleasant Valley, DeWitt, Northeast, St. Mary's, and Camanche, proved to make it one of the toughest in the area.

The Lancers started out losing their first 2 games. They won their first conference game, and also defeated Prophetstown 41-6. A trip to Pleasant Valley proved costly as they lost 20-14. They won the homecoming game with Camanche 23-8. The next conference game at Northeast was also won. Then a heartbreaking loss came at DeWitt, where the Lancers finished the conference 3-2. The final football game for the 1975 year was at Western Dubuque where the Lancers lost by 4 field goals, 12-0.

The kickoff signifies the beginning of each conflict.

The 1975 Sophomore football team went out and out scored every opponent played. This led the team, coached by Mr. Mike Brown, to win the Big Bend conference title. The year began on a down-cast tone as they lost 26-13 to Iowa City West. Seven straight wins, three of them shutouts, followed before losing a tough defensive game to Western Dubuque 14-13.

The Freshmen team set out to win more games than any freshman team had previously won at North Scott. They won six out of their first eight games and needed one more win to have the best record. A tough Williams team defeated them 26-22 leaving the Freshmen at a 6-3 standing for the season.

The Lancer girls began their second year of volleyball on August 18. During those first practices 70 girls were vieing for positions on three rosters: freshmen, junior varsity, and varsity squads. The girls had a heavy schedule playing fourteen games, ten of them being conference games. They opened with three heartbreakers: losing to Bettendorf, Davenport Central and Camanche. They handily beat North East, winning the first three sets. The girls went on to split a pair, dropping a match to Pleasant Valley and got their revenge out on Camanche, winning the game in four sets. The team went on in the season losing two games to St. Mary's of Clinton and Central of DeWitt. The varsity girls closed their season with a 5-5 conference record. They beat every conference team at least once, with the exception of PV. The junior varsity squad faired a little better ending their season with a 7-3 record. Their wins came through the defeats of North East, St. Mary's, DeWitt and Davenport Central. The freshman squad made their mark by beating Pleasant Valley, North East, and Davenport Central.

The 1975-76 wrestling squad started out this year with the goal of doing better than last year's team. The Lancers competed for the first time in the new Big Bend Conference and not only saw rough competition but also wrestled against top rated Bettendorf, Rock Island, and Davenport West. The team opened the season in the Davenport Central Tournament and finished in fourth place. The wrestlers went through a vigorous year and finished with a 4-5 won-loss record. At the end of the year, eight wrestlers had a winning record. The Junior Varsity squad won the conference championship. In addition, the Freshman team won their own Lancer Tourney. Both Randy Lage and John Steffen advanced to district competition. John finished unbeaten, and given the 'most valuable wrestler' title, for both of his sectional and district heavyweight class takings. He advanced to the state wrestling tournament in Des Moines.

The 1975-76 Varsity basketball season began on a sour note when the team lost its first three games, but in their first conference game at Camanche the Lancers came home with a one-point victory. As the season progressed, the Lancers were on a winning streak before the conference tournament. In their initial game the team defeated DeWitt and then beat Northeast in the semi-finals. The finals were played January 3rd in front of a capacity crowd in the Lancer gym, where Clinton St. Mary's survived a slow down attack by the Lancers and won the title. The conference title fell out of reach as the Lancers lost two very important conference games in a row.

For the sophomores, it turned out to be a close conference race, only to lose out to an undefeated St. Mary's squad. The freshmen turned in quite an impressive record and brightened the future of North Scott basketball.

The 1975-76 Varsity Girl's Basketball team opened their season against two tough Davenport clubs. This was just a taste of the competition the girl's faced in their 16 game schedule. They lost the first two games against the Central Blue Devils and West Falcons. St. Mary's, later in the season, also dealt out a 93-51 Lancer defeat. Their first win was against DeWitt Central. The home court victory ended in a 53-51 score. Following came losses from games with West, Pleasant Valley, and Davenport Central. They came back the next game with a 59-54 victory against the Comanche Indians. During Xmas vacation, the girls played in the Iowa High School Girls' Invitational Tournaments at Mount St. Clare College, Clinton. The girls lost to Wheatland but in consolation play, beat Lost Nation in over time to bring home a third place trophy. They then narrowly lost games to Northeast, St. Mary's, and DeWitt. They went on to beat Assumption in the next game. The Lancers went on in the season dropping games to Clinton, Pleasant Valley, and Camanche. The season ended with a win against the Rebels of Northeast. In district tourney play, the girls lost their first match against Durant. The J.V. and Freshman teams won one game apiece.

Principal Mr. Ed Fischer, presents roses on behalf of NSHS to Queen Pat Green during football halftime.

The students at North Scott will long remember their 1975 Homecoming. Our Student Congress, headed by Pam Seligman, worked hard to organize a funfilled week.

Monday's bake sale in the commons boosted the Student Congress treasury $24.46. Tuesday was Clash Day when students and faculty filled the halls with clashing shirt/pant combinations.

On Wednesday the guys tried all their tricks to get girls to talk to them and likewise give up their Homecoming buttons, and so the halls were quiet of feminine voices creating Hush Day.

Thursday after school each class participated in "Deck the Halls". The Junior class received the Homecoming Spirit Award with "Camanche is One Big Joke" in A hall. The traditional Snake Dance was resumed this year as the pep band proudly led the football players, cheerleaders, Lancer mascot--Karolyn Knapper, and the students through the streets of Eldridge.

Friday morning at the Homecoming aud, newly crowned Pat Green, knighted team captains Scott Rochau and John Suiter as her brother Joe Green read the Proclamation.

The school spirit that had been generated through the week, climaxed at the Homecoming game with a 23-8 victory over Camanche. The NSHS marching band entertained a "standing room only" crowd with an exciting "Country Music" halftime. North Scott Royalty was presented to the tune of "Have You Never Been Mel-low".

"Time in a Bottle" was the theme selected by the Freshmen Class for the October 11 dance. "Silver Highway" played to the satisfaction of all those attending the festivities.

The tense anticipation, the moment of disbelief, and a regal smile light the face of Queen Pat Green.

The 1976 North Scott track team turned out to be very young and surprising. After early season disappointments, Coach Ryan's trackmen buckled down and won many dual meets and triangular events. The Lancer tracksters then went to bigger and better things by winning the Fulton Relays. The team placed third in the tough Geneseo Maple Leaf Relays. The Lancers could only muster up a third place finish on their own stomping grounds in the Lancer Relays. In the first annual Big Bend Conference championship, the tracksters put it all together and won the conference championship. And when all the smoke had cleared for the year, Coach Ryan should look forward to a great team next year.

The Frosh-Soph track team was made up of mostly young and inexperienced freshmen. Although this presented quite a problem, the Frosh-Soph team came in fourth in both the Gateway Classic and their own Lancer Relays.

The 1976 North Scott girls track team were in high spirits and ready to take on all comers. But as the season progressed, it was not uncommon to see teams ahead of the Lancer girls. The girls did win the first annual Big Bend Conference championship and although the girls didn't win the Spartan Relays, the team did finish ahead of the Pleasant Valley team. Five girls advanced to the State track meet. Lynn Schmidt in the mile run, Stephanie Nollge, Pat Jones, Cindi Strobbe, and Laurie Miller, all four in the distance medley relay. The Freshmen girls defeated all of the Davenport schools they ran against. These wins show a bright future in girls track at North Scott.

The Lancer baseball team carried on this spring's tradition of having a young team. The starting line-up for North Scott contained four sophomores. The team picked up a lot of experience early and turned the season around in the latter half of the year. Coach Nevenhoven, with the help of rookie Coach Randy Denner, shifted the players around the field looking for the right combination. The Lancers were in last place in the conference at the start of the second half of the schedule. When the season was over the baseball team was in third place with a record of 6-5 in the Big Bend and 6-12 on the year. In state tournament play, the Lancers were knocked out in the first round by Pleasant Valley, 2-1 in a real heartbreaker.

The North Scott girls softball team wrapped up the Big Bend Conference championship with a perfect 10-0 record. Coach Dennis Johnson's young team came out on top almost continually, largely because of solid hitting, consistent pitching and good offense. The teams' only losses were suffered at the hands of Muscatine and Clinton in non-conference play. In state tournament play, the Lancer girls lost a 2-1 heartbreaker to Delwood. Coach Johnson can look forward to another good season next year, as all the players on his team will be returning.

NS girl golfers had their most successful season under the direction of the new golf coach, Bill McCoy. The varsity team consisting of Lisa Lau, Rita Cawiezell, Judy Meyer, Keri Nagle, Pat VanDewiele, and Janet Andersen ended with a winning 6-5 record. Sectionals were held at the Lancer's home course, Rustic Ridge. The team finished fifth out of nine teams. Lisa Lau was named and trophied '76 team medalist.

The boys, coached by Mr. Jim Nelson, finished 8-8. Tom McGrath, Ross Mangles, Randy Goettsch, Steve Fahrenkrog, Steve Price, Jerry Price, and Dave Baker played the varsity string. The Crow Valley Country Club hosted this area's sectionals. NS placed fifth out of the six teams there. In a special inter-team tournament, Ross Mangles took the first place trophy.

Red satin programs and tickets, goblets with the theme "The Way We Were" and photographs were all keepsakes of a night to remember -- the 1976 Prom, sponsored by the Junior class. Due to a number of problems, the annual dance was held at school in the cafeteria and commons this year, unlike past years. No one seemed to mind because everyone was enjoying the music of "Silver Highway". Old pictures of seniors, fountains, and a swing served as a backdrop for the May 15th dance.

A BICENTENNIAL AFTERWORD

Can you spare a bicentennial minute? Like it or not, the bicentennial was very much with us this year. From Marsha Washington selling bread in red, white, and blue coffins, we witnessed a year none of us will soon forget. Seniors were faced with the decision to sport red, white, and blue tassels for graduation, instead of red and gray. Tradition won out. Memory books, band handles, and Swing Show were all affected by the only happens once every 200 years' occurrence.

The bicentennial didn't monopolize the whole year, however. The change from a seven hour school day to a four hour day during 1st semester will be an important memory to everyone. The split shift allowed for more free time for jobs, homework, and messing around, but required school to start at 8:00. The wait for the junior high was well worth it though, as the building finally belonged exclusively to the high school teachers and students.

When you look over this year what will you remember? Will it be the recession, Barry Mantilo, two attempted assassinations, Jaws, presidential primaries, "Starsky and Hutch", or "Convoy"?

Perhaps your memories will involve things closer to home? It might be the first year in the Big Bend conference, Dracula, the folding of many clubs due to lack of interest of just plain apathy, sugared prunes, smoke-filled bathrooms, Mickey Mouse mania, the 'better luck next year' sports season, the Fonz, or the snow days we never quite got.

As for me, I'll always remember "fun and games", the mouse-eating fish, the "wish I'd studied" government tests, and pep band. Most of all I'll remember the sense of responsibility and fulfillment gained from working on this book.

In this special edition of the 1976 Shield we tried to recreate all those memories, whether they be sport, music, academic, drama, or may-even bicentennial oriented. I hope we succeeded.

And that's the way it was in 1975-76.
